Claims 6,7 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on August 29, 2005.

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-5,8,9 in the reply filed on August 29, 2005 is acknowledged.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-5,8,9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Giesber et al. "Spectroscopic properties of ... LaBO₃ and GdBO₃".

Giesber et al. suggest the instantly claimed products in the abstract and pg. 8987, right hand column and Fig. 2. Also taught is the instantly disclosed process of making the instantly claimed product at pg. 8988, section II to pg. 8989. The taught process refers to previous work by the instant inventor as footnote 10 which should be made of record in the instant application as the examiner does not have ready access to this document.

Where the claimed and prior art product(s) are identical or substantially identical, or are produced by identical or substantially identical process(es) the burden of proof is on applicant to establish that the prior art product(s) do not necessarily or inherently possess the characteristics of the instantly claimed product(s), see In re Best, 195 USPQ 430.

Claims 1-5,8,9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kolis, "Getting back to bases: Hydrothermal synthesis as a route to lanthanide borates with useful deep UV optoelectronic applications".

Kolis suggests the instantly claimed product as well as its process of making in the abstract. Further information is needed as to exactly what was presented by the inventor/author at the ACS National Meeting in San Francisco.

Where the claimed and prior art product(s) are identical or substantially identical, or are produced by identical or substantially identical process(es) the burden of proof is on applicant to establish that the prior art product(s) do not necessarily or inherently possess the characteristics of the instantly claimed product(s), see In re Best, 195 USPQ 430.

Claims 1-5,8,9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Giesber et al. "Hydrothermally grown borate single crystals for deep ultraviolet and nonlinear optical applications."

Giesber et al. suggest the instantly claimed products in pg. 42. Also taught is the instantly disclosed process of making the instantly claimed product. Where the claimed and prior art product(s) are identical or substantially identical, or are produced by identical or substantially identical process(es) the burden of proof is on applicant to establish that the prior art product(s) do not necessarily or inherently possess the characteristics of the instantly claimed product(s), see In re Best, 195 USPQ 430.
